Butler Parachutes Lumbar Support Option

Part Number: 701102

The lumbar support option on your parachute is adjustable. Move the pad vertically to the area of your back that you want to support. The movable pad can be filled with various amounts and density of foam to provide the desired support

The pad comes with two layers of foam installed.

The pad can be filled with additional layers of material to provide the desired support.

Always be sure to install the foam so the yellow piece of foam will be against your back with the pink piece of foam behind it.

These two pieces are glued together and should always be against your back when the pad is installed on the parachute.
